- WARNING -

"Account abuse is harmful for game fun"

We want to remind you that SimAgri allows only one account per person.

Accounts are checked every day to avoid (present in all games unfortunately) cheating. If we find any rule breaking, the account is immediately de-activated (cf game rules "banning from SimAgri").

We want to remind you that cheating is detrimental to the whole SimAgri community it penalise not only the players but also the team in charge of the site as they spend time checking accounts instead of spending

- A WORD FROM THE TEAM -

-This week will be devoted, like during each season, to the preparation of the SimAgri Show that will take place during March of the 15th season. Like each season you will find new models, and for this edition you will also discover new equipment. The traditional Animal Contests will also take place, and for the first time, the brand-new Cheese Contests. Remember to sign your animals up you have until the 7th of February of the 15th Season to do so. For the cheese contests, you will find below the sample deposit and contest dates.

-You may have noticed in the "What's new" section the first images dealing with the forestry. The development is following it's course, but this game feature will be available after the SimAgri Show, which means end of April 2008! It has been slightly delayed from it's original planned release in early April, this was to enable the slight modifications and settling of details that will make this feature a truly interesting one for anyone, forest-lover or not. We apologize for this delay.

Good game to you all!
