SIMAGRI NEWS

-First of all, the SimAgri Team would like to wish you a very good Year 23. Like it has been in the past 5 years, we'll present you more improvements as well as new content throughout the year.

-This week we'll start preparing the SimAgri Annual Show. As usual it'll take place in March. It'll be also the opportunity to reward the best cheese makers. There will be also fixing/tuning of the new crop program.

-Also, for SAEC members, it will soon be possible to send a weekly message to all players in your region. This message will be sent through SimAgri mail box after being checked by SimAgri of course.

Good game to you all,

ANIMALS

Sheltered :

All species but buffalos

Free range :

Buffalos (buffalo ration), meat cattle and sheep (winter ration).

The cold season is here, don't forget to feed animals you leave outdoors with buffalo or winter rations.

-SimAgri would like to introduce you a new SimPartner. Anthony aka Paquiche on Fr1 for a year and a half now is working on an educative project, a scale 1/32th diorama presenting grass and corn silage. This project developed with 4 other students will be a teaching help to make people understand the whole process from sowing to harvest. This diorama will be displayed in their college hall.

-SimAgri and UniversMini have decided to sponsor this project.

-Here are a few photos of their team at the first stage of the making :

- INFO FOR THE ANNUAL SHOW CHEESE CONTESTS -

If you plan to sign up your cheeses for the coming Annual Show contests, here are some important info and dates :

-There are 2 categories, "Artisanal Cheese" and "Industrial Cheese".

- This competition will reward the best cheese for each region/Province and this for each cheese.

- For cheeses produced at national level, there will be as many rewards as there are regions/provinces.

- Each farmer can exhibit only a one kilo sample per cheese. Of course he can exhibit samples of the different cheeses he produces.

- The sample must be optimally matured to be registered for the competition.

- The cheese Shelf Life (SL) must not be exceeded on the day of the competition.

- Samples brought for the exhibition are lost.Each farmer who wants to exhibit cheese has to pay subscription and registration rights :

120 euros per sample exhibited

- Sample deposit dates :

| Type of cheese | Sample deposit date |
|---------------------------------|---|
| Goat Cheese (GC) | 7th February to 1st March 23:00 (server time) |
| Soft Ripened Mody Cheese (SRMC) | 7th February to 2nd March 23:00 (server time) |
| Soft Rind Washed Cheese (SRWC) | 7th February to 3rd March 23:00 (server time) |
| Blue Cheese (BC) | 7th February to 4th March 23:00 (server time) |
| Pressed Uncooked Cheese (PUC) | 7th February to 5th March 23:00 (server time) |
| Presse Cooked Cheese (PCC) | 7th February to 6th March 23:00 (server time) |

Keep these dates in mind if you want to sign your cheeses up for the contests. Be careful, your cheese samples Shelf Life is important too. Your cheese must be at its maximum maturation when you will sign it up.

You can already plan your production and maturation process to make sure your cheese will be ready for the contests.

- Exhibitions Calendar :

| Type of cheese | Exhibition date |
|---------------------------------|--------------------------|
| Goat Cheese (GC) | 2nd March (date SimAgri) |
| Soft Ripened Mody Cheese (SRMC) | 3rd March (date SimAgri) |
| Soft Rind Washed Cheese (SRWC) | 4th March (date SimAgri) |
| Blue Cheese (BC) | 5th March (date SimAgri) |
| Pressed Uncooked Cheese (PUC) | 6th March (date SimAgri) |
