SIMAGRI NEWS

First of all, the SimAgri Team wishes you a happy year 2011 as well as a good year 27 (SimAgri will celebrate its 6th anniversary in a few days from now). We want to thank you for your support and your suggestions in developing the game during all these years.

A long waited feature is coming, we are about to start developing the "rare breeds". In a few weeks from now, you will be able to breed the first animals from these in partnership with the VIRB (Virtual Institute for Rare Breeds). You won't be able to purchase animals from the rare breeds at the National Market but only at the VIRB if you reached a certain level for a species, a breed, a stat with animals born and bred in your farm. The VIRB will give the opportunity to farmers working on genetics to raise poorly known or rare breeds. A full explanation of how the system will work will be available before this new feature is added into the game.

Good game to you all,

ANIMALS

Sheltered :

All species but buffalos

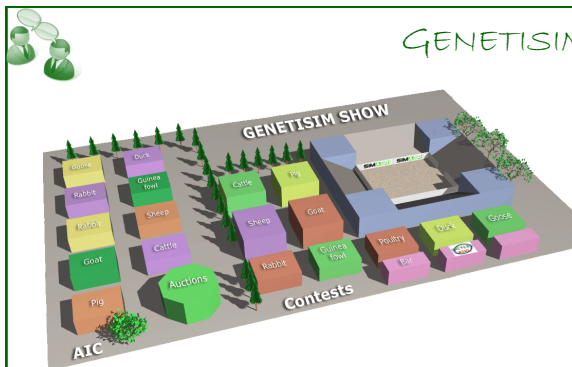

Free range :

Buffalos (buffalo ration), meat cattle and sheep (winter ration).

The cold season is here, don't forget to feed animals you leave outdoors with buffalo or winter rations.

GENETISIM SHOW

The eighth GenetiSim just ended and many of you presented animals to the contests. Many of you too have been rewarded both on regional and national contests. Moreover many animals have been sold during the auctions and it's a sign that the genetics of these animals was of good standard.

- INFO FOR THE ANNUAL SHOW CHEESE CONTESTS -

If you plan to sign up your cheeses for the coming Annual Show contests, here are some important info and dates :

-There are 2 categories, "Artisanal Cheese" and "Industrial Cheese".

- This competition will reward the best cheese for each region/Province and this for each cheese.

- For cheeses produced at national level, there will be as many rewards as there are regions/provinces.

- Each farmer can exhibit only a one kilo sample per cheese. Of course he can exhibit samples of the different cheeses he produces.

- The sample must be optimally matured to be registered for the competition.

- The cheese Shelf Life (SL) must not be exceeded on the day of the competition.

- Samples brought for the exhibition are lost. Each farmer who wants to exhibit cheese has to pay subscription and registration rights :

120 euros per sample exhibited

- Sample deposit dates :

Type of cheese	Sample deposit date
Goat Cheese (GC)	7th February to 1st March 23:00 (server time)
Soft Ripened Mody Cheese (SRMC)	7th February to 2nd March 23:00 (server time)
Soft Rind Washed Cheese (SRWC)	7th February to 3rd March 23:00 (server time)
Blue Cheese (BC)	7th February to 4th March 23:00 (server time)
Pressed Uncooked Cheese (PUC)	7th February to 5th March 23:00 (server time)
Presse Cooked Cheese (PCC)	7th February to 6th March 23:00 (server time)

Keep these dates in mind if you want to sign your cheeses up for the contests. Be careful, your cheese samples Shelf Life is important too. Your cheese must be at its maximum maturation when you will sign it up.

You can already plan your production and maturation process to make sure your cheese will be ready for the contests.

- Exhibitions Calendar :

Type of cheese	Exhibition date
Goat Cheese (GC)	2nd March (date SimAgri)
Soft Ripened Mody Cheese (SRMC)	3rd March (date SimAgri)
Soft Rind Washed Cheese (SRWC)	4th March (date SimAgri)
Blue Cheese (BC)	5th March (date SimAgri)
Pressed Uncooked Cheese (PUC)	6th March (date SimAgri)
Presse Cooked Cheese (PCC)	7th March (date SimAgri)

For each cheese, only one reward, The Golden Medal. The medal is given to the player winner of the contest and allows him to sell a higher price this cheese for a whole year, that is from the 1st of April of the current year until the 7th of March of the following year.

Good luck to you all,
